Immense Crowds View Water Pageant and Parade Up Broadway - Whole City in Holiday Dress-Significant Words in Reply to Mayor Gaynor's Welcome Address.

IS READY AND EAGER TO DO HIS DUTY AS A CITIZEN.

I am more glad than I can say to get home, to be back in my own country, back among people I love. I am ready and eager to do my part so far as I am able in helping solve problems which must be solved if we of this, the greatest democratic republic upon which the sun has ever shone, are to see its destinies rise to the high level of our hopes and its opportunities. This is the duty of every citizen, but it is peculiarly my duty, for any man who has ever been honored by being made President of the United States is thereby forever after rendered the debtor of the American people and is bound throughout to remember this as his prime obligation, and in private life as much as in public life so to carry himself that the American people may never feel cause to regret that they once placed him at their head.-Roosevelt replying to Mayor Gaynor's welcoming address.

NEW YORK, June 18 .- Theodore Roosevelt, ex-President of the United States, statesman and cosmopolitan and traveler, was greeted back to, his native land today by such a demonstration of popular enthusiasm and personal devotion as had seldom, if ever, been accorded to a returning American traveler. Each step in this eventful home-coming, from the time he debarked from the steamer Kaiserin Auguste Victoria until he moved up Broadway amid the tumultuous demonstrations of vast throngs of people, was one continuous ovation and tribute of popular enthusiasm.

The stages in this stirring welcome were crowded into hardly more than three hours. At 8:30 this morning Mr. Roosevelt left the steamship amid the roar of big guns from battleships and land forts and a pandemonium of steam whistles from craft and the factories along the water front. Then, abroad the revenue cutter Androscoggin, he moved at the head of an imposing marine parade, up the Hudson river to Riverside drive and back again to the Battery, amid the continuous demonstrations of water craft and the assembled multitude along the water front.

The landing at the Battery was the signal for another clamorous ovation. Here, too, Mayor Gaynor extended official greetings, and Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly, but significantly, of the interest and part he will continue to take in public affairs.

At 11 o'clock the start up Broadway began through densely massed throngs extending for five miles along the main thoroughfares of the city. Everywhere the returning traveler met the same whirlwind of demonstrative greetings-as he passed Wall street, further on as he moved through Park place and the business section, and then through the throngs in Union and Madison squares, and through the long reaches of 5th avenue. Mr. Roosevelt stood erect in his carriage most of the time, his silk hat in his right hand, waving responsive greeting to the echoing cheers. By noon the popular welcome was concluded and Mr. Roosevelt joined relatives for lunch, preparatory to returning to his home at Oyster Bay
